27 year old Elliott Douglas is a multi-instrumentalist from Buffalo, NY. He is the creator and front-man for M.A.G.S., an indie rock band currently based in Los Angeles, CA. He started playing drums at age 11 and at 17 began teaching himself to play guitar after finding out that he was related to Jimi Hendrix. Elliott has been writing music ever since. He writes every part of every song delivering what has come to be known as his signature sound, indie punk with pop sensibility.

He joined Admirable Traits Records in 2015 for the release of his first E.P. "Cellophane" receiving rave reviews from fans and local bloggers. His songs "California" and "My Love" received placements in high-profile shows such as the Showtime series "Shameless", CW's "The Flash", MTV's "Teen Mom 2" and Freeforms "Famous In Love". In 2017, M.A.G.S. released the self-titled LP "M.A.G.S." who's song "Drugs" has hit close 2 million streams on Spotify. In 2018, Elliott moved to Los Angeles, CA and is currently writing new music set to release before summer 2019.

M.A.G.S. can be found on all streaming platforms.
